Novant Health Forsyth Medical Center
Novant Health Forsyth Medical Center is a 859-bed hospital offering a wide range of services in emergency, medical, surgery, rehabilitation and behavioral health. Centers of excellence include the Rehabilitation Center, Maya Angelou Women’s Health and Wellness Center, Heart and Vascular Institute, Derrick L. Davis Cancer Center, Stroke and Neurosciences Center, Orthopedic Center and Behavioral Health.

HISTORY
Novant Health Forsyth Medical Center was founded in 1887 as a 10-bed hospital inside a private home. Episcopal minister Henry O. Lacy worked with the Ladies Twin City Association and other volunteers to raise money for the hospital to address the community’s growing need for healthcare. The Twin City Hospital existed in several different locations until 1959 when voters approved purchase of a 77-acre campus that is Novant Health Forsyth Medical Center’s current home.

Novant Health Mint Hill Medical Center was awarded a certificate of need from the state in 2007. The project was put on hold for several years, and construction officially began in September 2016. The topping-out ceremony, where the last beam is placed for the hospital, was held in April 2017. Mint Hill Medical Center officially opened is expected to open its doors in October 2018 as a 145,000-square-foot, 36-bed community hospital with an attached 67,000-square-foot physician’s plaza. In November 2016, Mint Hill Medical Office Building opened on the 80-acre campus offering primary, pediatric and ob-gyn services. In 2017, pulmonology and urgent care services were added. Mint Hill Medical Center will be Novant Health’s 15th medical center.
